The Future of On-Demand Workspace, Reimagined

Where you work has a dramatic impact on how well you work. Traditional office space is a recipe for constant interruptions. Working from home can provide some privacy but in-person meetings are nearly impossible. Cafeteria-style shared space offers no privacy at all and seems more focused on fun amenities than a productive work environment.

FLOW Creative Space was developed for the busy and demanding professional that desires to operate in a private and serene environment that facilitates productivity and helps them succeed. Our on-demand suite is perfect for business executives, creative professionals, attorneys, counselors, research firms and other busy people. Our monthly executive membership program allows guests to purchase hours that fit their budgets and unique needs. Members can book their time on-line and use the facility 24 hours a day.

"As an entrepreneur, I need access to a facility that protects my ideas. Using typical shared workspaces doesn't project the serious image we demand for our start-up. FLOW Creative Space is conveniently located and ideally set up for my demanding 24-7 schedule."

GEORGE P
Consumer Brand CEO

"I needed a private and comfortable space to interview a client. FLOW Creative Space opened the floodgates of inspiration. FLOW is ideal for quiet, focused time, space for a private conversation, or a comfortable location for a secure video conference away from home or the office."
